

Sesqui-Centenary of Lennox Bridge - 1983

This was a very large function lasting all the afternoon, attended by Blue Mountains City Council and State Government leaders.

Glenbrook and Lapstone Schools were there to perform. Several descendants of David Lennox had come down from Bathurst. Neville Wran, Premier of New South Wales, landed in a helicopter on Glenbrook Oval and was driven down Mitchells Pass to the bridge, after which the road was closed for the day. Other people had to walk down.

Fortunately, the Centenary Committee had taken all the display equipment down in the morning as it was far too heavy to carry. We took lunch and spent all the morning mounting the display. We were directed to park below the bridge which enabled us to escape the crowds after the ceremony. Tim Miers, Gordon Brown and some of the ladies were in period costume.

Attending:
Tim Miers
Joy Streat

Gordon Brown
Elizabeth Saxton

Charles Aston
and others

Nell Aston

*Stuart Whitehair, Neville Wran, Tim Miers
Gordon Brown, Peter Quirk
Courtesy of Tim Miers.*

Peter Quirk (Mayor) and Neville Wran
(Premier)
Photo by C Aston

